

The Georgia Association for Colleges and Employers (GACE) invites you to our annual conference. GACE membership is made up of career services personnel from higher education institutions as well as employer recruiters. Our association prides itself on connecting its 340+ members with vendors and exhibitors whose services and products are beneficial to them. With over 100 members on average participating in conference, you have the opportunity to directly promote your services and products to over a third of members and gain indirect exposure to our entire membership when listed as a vendor or exhibitor attending the conference on our website (www.gace.org). We have a limited number of spaces available and strongly encourage you to move quickly and take advantage of this promotional opportunity!

Registration page for vendors coming soon. Please check back in Spring 2009.
